XII — Final ordering of candidates — The jury will use the following voting method in order to obtain an absolute majority in the final ranking of candidates:

The first voting is intended to determine the candidate to be put in first place. If a candidate receives more than half of the votes of the members of the jury present at the meeting, he/ she will be placed in first place. If the applicant in first place is not determined, the voting will be repeated, but only among the candidates who received enough votes to be considered for first place, once the applicant least voted in the first round is removed. If there is more than one candidate in the position of least voted there will be another voting with only these candidates in order to determine who is to be eliminated. If the tie persists in relation to the same set of candidates the President of the jury will decide which candidate is to be eliminated. If at this point there continues to be a tie among two or more applicants, the president of the jury will decide which of them is to be eliminated. Once this elimination is made, the jury returns their attention to the first vote, but only with the remaining candidates. The process is repeated until one applicant receives more than half the votes for first place. The process is repeated for second place and so on until an ordered list of all candidates is complete.

XIII —The competition, in accordance with the established in article 38 of the ECDU, serves to ascertain the capacity and performance of the candidates to carry out the duties, for which he/she is applying, relevant for the mission of the University of Madeira, in accordance with the established in its Regulation for the Recruitment and Selection of Faculty Staff, for the profile Medium, — 'M'.
